Your guide to getting about in Brent

Welcome to Brent's travel guide, your quick look at public and sustainable transport around the borough. You will find useful information about bus and train routes and a detailed transport map, which highlights some of Brent's cultural and leisure attractions.

Public Transport

There are over 50 bus routes serving the borough with most routes running from early morning until midnight, seven days a week. 15 of those routes even run overnight. Brent also has four London Underground (Tube) lines and two London Overground routes meaning you to get in to central London in as little as half an hour by Tube.

Children Railways have three stations in Brent including Wembley Stadium. You can get trains to London Marylebone in as little as 15 minutes and also go northwards to towns such as High Wycombe, where you can get connecting trains to Birmingham, South London and as far as Brighton can be reached without travelling through central London on Southern trains that stop at Wembley Central, or via the expanding Thameslink network that is easily accessed just outside Brent at Hendon, Cricklewood or West Hampstead stations. Getting about in Brent has never been easier!

Wembley Stadium event days

Wembley Stadium is a public transport destination with enhanced train services on event days. Parking is severely restricted to spectators in the surrounding streets and there are changes to the normal pattern of bus services. Plan your journey in advance by going to www.tfl.gov.uk or www.wembleystadium.com

Oyster cards

Used as a daily pass or bought as a season ticket, an Oyster Card is the cheapest way to travel on buses, the Tube, London Overground and most National Rail services within Greater London. Full details including all discounts available can be found on www.tfl.gov.uk or at your local station.

Making the most of your borough by walking and cycling

Brent has lots of interesting walks including a length of the Capital Ring, allowing you to see some of London's scenery. You will pass through Fryent Country Park and Welsh Harp Open Space, two of the many parks and open spaces in the borough. You can also enjoy waterside walking along the Grand Union Canal towpath. If you are a cyclist there is an extensive network of cycle routes, both on and off the highway including parts of the London Cycle Network. More information on the Capital Ring and cycling can be found at www.tfl.gov.uk

Are you new to cycling or just want to be more confident at cycling on the road?

Brent Council has an arrangement with Cycle Training UK to provide free cycle training courses in schools and subsidised one-to-one or group cycle training for anyone aged 6 to 65. Four hours training costs just £5 per person and residents in full time education, on income support, unemployed, registered disabled and anyone over 65 years old are all eligible for free training. For more information go to www.cycletraining.co.uk or call 020 7231 6005.

Bus services operating in the London Borough of Brent

BUS FREQUENCIES

The bus tables show the approximate frequency in minutes at different times of the day. These periods vary slightly from route to route, but can be generally summarised as follows:

	Monday-Friday	Saturday	Sunday
Early mornings	0500 – 0700	0500 – 0900	0600 – 0900
Peaks/Daytime	0700 – 1900	0900 – 1900	0900 – 1800
Evenings	1900 – 2400	1900 – 2400	1800 – 2400
Nights	2400 – 0500	2400 – 0500	2400 – 0600

Night only buses generally run from about midnight until about 0530.

24 hour service running during the day and night

- Queen's Park Station Main bus stops served within the London Borough of Brent.
- Oxford Circus Bus stops outside Brent

The numbers shown in the tables below indicate how often the buses run. For example 37 means a bus every 3 to 7 minutes throughout the period indicated. The number 30 indicates a bus every 30 minutes.

Bus operating companies are listed next to the route diagram.

For full details of services, see timetables at bus stops or at www.tfl.gov.uk getting around/timetables. For route maps see www.tfl.gov.uk getting around/maps.
